Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Monday 19 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Mostly cloudy with patchy rain on Tuesday.

This Evening and Tonight:
There will be some clear spells in the east this evening, but thickening cloud and outbreaks of rain will spill southeast across the country through the night. However, Dumfries and Galloway and the Lothians and Border staying dry.

Tuesday:
Cloudy with outbreaks of rain, mainly light and patchy. Becoming brighter across the north in the morning with a few showers, and these brighter conditions extending to most areas later.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Mainly dry and bright with sunny spells, but chilly at night with a risk of frost. A few showers in the far north, some wintry and heavy over Shetland.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.